Who makes corrugated cardboard?

This product is manufactured by Cartonneries de Gondardennes (CDG), our European partner, participating in a sustainable development programme. Founded in 1897 and 100% owned by family shareholders, the Cartonneries de Gondardennes group is one of the last French independents in the corrugated cardboard packaging sector. Note: We sell it by pallet.

What is a single wall corrugated sheet?

Larger sheets can be easily cut down to your exact specifications, providing flexibility while minimizing waste. Consisting of one fluted layer sandwiched between two liner sheets, single-wall corrugated provides excellent protection while remaining lightweight and cost-effective.

What is corrugated cardboard?

Corrugated cardboard, also known as corrugated fiberboard or simply corrugate, is a paper-based material made up of three layers: an outer liner, an inner liner, and a wavy layer called the corrugate or fluting. The corrugate provides the material with its characteristic strength and rigidity, making it an ideal choice for various applications.
