Does Bosnia and Herzegovina need a hydropower plant?

Hydropower has historically been the dominant renewable energy source in Bosnia and Herzegovina, and several hydropower plants are in operation. The country has been exploring opportunities to expand its hydropower capacity, but such projects can face environmental and social challenges.

Should Bosnia & Herzegovina cap energy consumption?

To boost energy efficiency and energy savings, it also needs to cap primary energy consumption at 6.5 Mtoe and final energy consumption at 4.34 Mtoe by 2030. In mid-2023 Bosnia and Herzegovina published a draft National Energy and Climate Plan.

What is a feed-in tariff in Bosnia & Herzegovina?

In the Federation of Bosnia and Herzegovina, the main support scheme for the production of electricity from renewable energy sources is a feed-in tariff, regulated by the RES Law FBiH and special Decrees and Rulebooks.

How is electricity generated in BiH?

Electric power is primarily generated in coal-fired thermal and large-scale hydro power plants and the country is a net exporter of electrical energy. The generating capacity is about 17,000 GWh. BiH historically had a comparative advantage in electricity, particularly because of its natural hydropower resources and coal reserves.

It aims to contribute to the energy security and energy efficiency of the region by supporting the development of joint regional storage and distribution solutions and strategies for increasing energy ...

With the adoption of the NECP, Bosnia and Herzegovina should seek to improve the country's long-term resilience, advance its economic diversification and competitiveness, and to secure its energy supply ...

Bosnia and Herzegovina is endeavoured with significant and diverse indigenous natural energy resources that are still untouched or only partly exploited, such as:
